Trader Rolento:
Oh, you have found some! I will reveal whether or not the power to move rocks like living humans for hundreds of years lies within this small stone. I must begin my research immediately -- starting tonight. Although it is difficult because I do not have any proper tools or measuring devices, because this is not a workshop, I can measure the size with a ruler and the weight with a scale, and pound it with my hammer to fathom its solidity and density. Hmm ... so this goes like this ... and ...
Oh dear, I've been wrapped up too much in my own thoughts, forgive me! As we promised, I will reward you by the number of heartstones you have brought.
But I wish to have some more heartstones to send to my guild brothers in Giran. What do you say? Could I ask you another favor?
Say you w
You have earned 200 adena.
